

WRIGHT-METZLER EMPLOYEES

ROYALTY ENTERTAINED

Employees of the Wright-Metzler Company were royally entertained at a dinner party last night at the Pleasant Valley Country Club. The affair was given by the company and never was the club the scene of a jollier gathering or a more delightful social function. The inclement weather did not interfere with the attendance. The dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock by Manager Watson and was beautiful in all its appointments. Not the slightest detail in arrangements was overlooked. Covers were laid for seventy. The large table was arranged to face the letter T and presented a very attractive appearance. In the center and at the end of the table were white centerpieces of pink and white carnations interspersed with maiden hair fern, while sprays of fern were placed at intervals over the table, adding charm to the effect. The place cards were decorated with sweet peas and the favors were carnations and small baskets filled with nuts and adorned with sweet peas. The menu consisted of delicious "blackened" chicken, baked corn, sweet potatoes, french salad, hot rolls, ice cream, cake, coffee and candy. The large dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Clyde E. Hays. The appointments were in keeping with the occasion. The evening light was embellished with a shower of yellow crepe paper, while floral baskets covered with similar paper decorated with daffodils and other spring flowers were suspended from the ceiling. Clusters of spring blossoms were festooned from the four corners of the room to the central decorations. Bird cages in which were little chicks were hung on the walls.

After the guests were seated at the table "America" was sung, followed by verses of popular songs rendered by all. Yesterday being April 1 many April fool "pranks" took place, providing fun galore. A demonstration of a radio by Ralph Lepley, who appeared as a farmer, assisted by Frank Beatty, the announcer, was one of the big hits of the evening. In addition to musical numbers, all the latest news of the day, including the "going" and "coming" of employees of the store, was broadcasted. April fool gifts, neatly wrapped in fancy boxes, were distributed among the managers and a number of employees. Frank M. Wright, whose engagement was recently announced, received a "platinum" wedding ring and a small brooch. The straw part of the brooch was to be used in time of sunshine and the handle in time of storm.

Charles Jones, elevator man at the Wright-Metzler Store, who has won prominence throughout the county as a fiddler was present and entertained the guests with a number of old time tunes, and a song and dance. Mr. and Mrs. Ruth McQuiggin sang a solo, at the conclusion of which Manager Watson presented Miss McQuiggin with a large bouquet of flowers. An acrobatic dance by Coraellus Washington brought forth much applause. Frank M. Wright, an "Ann" created much laughter. After all the guests had assembled in a group, supposedly to have their picture taken, the room was darkened and "Sonny" Hanford, disguised as a large black bear, came into the room, causing the group to scatter to all parts of the room. Twenty-four verses of clever poetry, each verse pertaining to some member of the force, was composed by Miss Gertrude Lindsay and Miss Josephine Towsey and read by the latter. Kiefer's orchestra played during the evening and never did the popular violinist and his musicians present a more delightful musical program. All the most popular hits of the season were played. Dancing was indulged in and a general good time was had. Robert M. Evans and H. Dana Wright gave interesting and helpful talks on "Store Management." The object of the social gathering was for the management and clerks to get together and have a good time and chose in charge of the affair left nothing undone to insure that there was plenty of entertainment.

Hawaiian Geysers

Two enormous geysers are spouting 2,000,000 cubic feet of molten lava every hour from the Kilauea volcano. During the past summer the crater of this volcano, which is 2,000 feet high, and contains an immense lake of liquid fire has been draining due to subterranean disturbances. The surface of the lake has fallen 600 feet. The lava has been flowing out of the crater in a rapid rate. It has reached within 200 feet of the rim. The appearance of two immense geysers spouting molten lava into the air and dropping it back into the lake is a unusual phenomenon in the volcanic world and the sight of the liquid fire of the Kilauea crater—Department of the Interior Bulletin.

A DISTINGUISHED REPUBLICAN

GEN. WASHINGTON GARDNER, Commissioner of Pensions. One of the most popular appointments made by the late President Harding, early in his Administration was that of General Washington Gardner of Michigan as Commissioner of Pensions. General Gardner was already familiar to the national capital through his service as a member of Congress for many years. At the age of sixteen he volunteered for service in the Civil War and was severely wounded in action. He is a former Commander of the Department of Michigan Grand Army of the Republic. For 25 years he was a legislator and later became a college professor.

Fox World's Greatest Debater at Age of 19

Recent rivalry as to who is the baby member of Congress has caused some of the bookish to incline to hunt up records revealing that although William Pitt was premier of England at twenty-four and although Charles James Fox was acknowledged to be the greatest debater in parliament at about the same age, having got in when he was nineteen, there once was a young man elected to the Congress of the United States when he was twenty-four years old and too young to serve under the Constitution. This young fellow was John Logan, Brown of Kentucky, who could not take his seat until the second session of the thirty-sixth Congress who later served in two other Congresses and was governor of his state. John Randolph of Roanoke on account of his youthful appearance was challenged by the clerk of the house who asked how old he was. Randolph replied that he had better go ask the people who elected him. Henry Clay is the only man in history who served in the Senate before he was thirty years old, but he knew enough to keep his mouth shut about his age and no one else thought of it. The late Champ Clark, member of Congress later Secretary of State under John Quincy Adams and twice elected for the presidency, by Andrew Jackson in 1822 and by James K. Polk in 1845—Kansas City Star.

Speed Ordinance of 1757

The quaintness of Boston's Colonial days as it seems to us now lives and breathes in the words of a regulation adopted by the selectmen of 1757. These city fathers declared that of these "great hangers" arising often times from coaches, stage chairs, or other carriages on the Lord do as people are going to or coming from the several churches in this town, being driven with great rapidity and the public worship being sometimes much disturbed by such carriages it is therefore voted and ordered that no coach, stage chair, or other carriage shall at such times be driven at a greater rate than a foot pace on penalty to the master of the stage or servant so driving, of the sum of ten shillings.—Boston Transcript.

Killing Copyright

The following is a story told by Elmer Byrum and related by Harry Furness of a contemporary who thought he would enjoy his holiday taking a walk through the West End. "Yes, Mr. Byrum, I drive myself up, and look at some photographs in a shop window when a swell bloke with a lady on his arm came in and saw my card clean through the window. Did I guess and swing? Did I use bad language? No. I remembered a tip I was so with the blood all a stream in down my face I rose up at grace but as I say, I beg your pardon. That's all I say. I beg your pardon. I crushed him with my hand!"—Advertiser.

Experienced

I see you are a tailor. I am a boot stitching to a London firm. A ladies tailor. This is a ladies tailoring establishment. "Yes, that is what I am. Which is a particular line my specialty. Many a tailor and a good tailor there. Now have you ever had any experience at dressmaking?" "No, but I've worked on kites."

His Condition

"Heads Up! Heads Up!" called an acquaintance from down the road. "How's your rheumatism coming on?" "Well, I'll just tell you, O.K.," responded Old "Nuts" Teller. "I've got all the rheumatism all the time that I can carry, and some of the time a good deal more."

The KITCHEN CABINET

The woman who undertakes the administration of a home without understanding it, is on par with a man who attempts to support it.

TASTY GOOD THINGS

It cannot be said too often that it is that should be served hot, should be served cold, should be served warm, should be served cold. On the other hand, food such as salad be it prepared of fish, flesh, fruit, or fowl if lukewarm, is a gastronomic sin, and should not be consumed.

Charlotte Russe.—Take a whole sponge cake, one-half pint of whipping cream, half cupful of powdered sugar and the whites of two eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Line a cake mold with slices of cake fitting one piece into the bottom of the mold. With the cream mix and fill into the mold, and bake in a water bath with vanilla. Fill the cake with more slices of cake and set on top for an hour or two. Loosen the contents of the mold with a broad knife and turn out upon a chilled glass dish.

Panned Oysters.—Wash oysters and butter well, wet with the oyster liquor and lay in a baking dish. Arrange as many oysters as the bread will hold, dot with bits of butter cover and bake eight minutes in a very hot oven, until the edges of the oysters are curled. Serve at once.

Jellied Chicken.—Boil a good sized fowl until tender and leave it in the water all night. Remove the fowl and season the meat with salt and pepper and put over again with the bones from which the meat has been stripped. Crack the bones so that all the flavor will be extracted. Soak one-fourth of a cupful of gelatin and stir into the hot stock. When it is dissolved take from the fire and cool. When it begins to jelly pour into a buttered mold. Arrange in this hard cooked egg minced two chopped olives and the chicken meat cut into neat cubes. When filled the mold should be set in a cold place for several hours. Turn out with ready to serve. Nice for a picnic luncheon.

This jellied chicken may be molded in small molds and served on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing, a very fine salad.

Old Styles in Combs; Large and Conspicuous

Combs are the most extreme feature of fashion, and their vogue has evolved a number of odd styles. Some of these are quite as large and as conspicuous as the combs worn by the women in old Spanish pictures. They are of the finest tortoise shell and gold, of carved ivory and of gold, jewel-encrusted; and the imitation novelties are almost as attractive in coral, jade, lapis, amber—all, to be sure, in a competition that quite faithfully reproduces the genuine article. The newest fantasy is a high comb from which falls a fringe of jet, or steel or whatever—that waves and sparkles with every slightest motion of a woman's head.

PROPOSED INCREASE IN TELEPHONE RATES.

If the Bell Telephone Company can convince the Public Service Commission that its proposed revision of rates is reasonable and fair and that larger revenues are a necessity, the new schedule, scheduled to become effective on May 1, will be adopted.

There is some doubt of its being approved, however, the commission having taken steps on its own initiative to protect against the increase. This will require the telephone company followed by a hearing, even if other parties are not filed. In any event the telephone company has held upon the burden of proving its case to the satisfaction of the commission before its proposed schedule of rates becomes effective.

In case such approval is given the increase will fall upon patrons of the telephone company who have frequent occasion to utilize their telephone in making distance calls. As proposed the new schedule will add five cents to the toll for station-to-station calls over long distance lines, and 10¢ to toll for station-to-station calls over toll lines. The local service rate applies only to calls within 10 miles of the central station. For each additional mile beyond the local zone an additional charge of five cents is made up to 20 miles. From that point the rate increases by five cents for each additional eight miles.

Under the proposed new schedule the additional charge will be five cents per six mile step up to 18 miles, instead of 21, and beyond 18 miles the rate will be increased by five cents for each eight miles, to a maximum of 10¢. More distant calls will be at the present rates.

The change in the toll of rate zones, from six miles steps up to 18 miles, to six mile steps up to 18 miles, means that between 21 and 48 miles the toll will be increased by five cents, and between 48 and 66 miles the toll will be increased by five cents. The result will be an increase of five cents in the toll on messages to points from 20 to 100 miles from the central station.

On calls from person, instead of to another person, the toll is known as "person-to-person" rates, the proposed increase will be from five to 10¢ on calls where the distance is more than 30 and not more than 112 miles.

The bulk of the distance calls being made by business establishments that will feel the effects of the advance, if authorized. It would appear, therefore, that telephone patrons of this class will watch the proceedings with much interest, even if they do not join in filing a protest against the proposed changes.

If an increased toll could be laid on the long-distance talker there might be little or no objection to a raise in the rates for long-distance talking by telephone.

The giving up of his own life by Joseph Shroeder in an effort to save that of his sister in the dock at McClellan, shows that there is always somebody ready to prove an old man that "greener grass" is not so green as that which he grows his life for a friend.

After the way he fooled us yesterday will have to take with a grain of salt the assurance of the weatherman that after today it will be fair and warmer.

There is a very well defined impression that the "day-light" savers are trying to play An-Hill Ford with themselves.

FIGHT IS ON FOR RETENTION OF EIGHT-HOUR DAY

French and German Governments Opposing Workers of Both Countries.

EFFECT ON PRODUCTION

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
GENEVA, April 2.—Before the governing body of the International Labor Bureau, the French and German governments, together with the French and German industrial classes, have joined hands in a fight against the eight-hour day.
And with equal solidarity the French and German laboring classes have joined hands to support the eight-hour day which they won when the first time since the war that the hour day labor convention was launched by the first international labor conference at Washington in 1920.
With the French and German laboring classes thus a solid unit against the solid unit of the French and German governments and the French and German industrial classes, Europeans point out that this is the first time since the war that the French and Germans of about any class whatsoever have ever gotten together on any question whatsoever.
While the fight now being conducted by the French and German governments against the eight-hour day is only part of a campaign that has been launched in a number of the leading industrial countries, the question of production, as a basis for the fight, has enabled the French and Germans to push the matter further than has been done elsewhere.
Before the governing body of the International Labor Bureau the German government and the German industrialists have taken the position that the only way in which Germany can pay her reparations is by increasing her production, and that one of the most effective means to this end will be to set aside temporarily the eight-hour day and go back to the nine and ten-hour day.
Against this position, however, German and French laboring classes have united as solidly as have the opponents of the eight-hour day. The German labor representatives are bitterly opposed to the idea that the burden of reparations must fall on the German workman. And in this the French workman is supporting his German brother.
So emphatic was the defense put up by the French and German labor representatives that the governing body of the International Labor Bureau has decided to continue harder than ever the fight to have the eight-hour day convention ratified by all of the leading nations of the world.
This victory has just been followed by a similar victory by the Swiss workmen by means of the Swiss referendum law.
The fight in other countries over the eight-hour day is expected to be pushed to a conclusion by the workmen. The favorable position by the new English Labor Cabinet on the eight-hour day has greatly strengthened the position of the supporters of the convention in all of the other countries.

RAISE FEW HORSES. SPECIALIST'S ADVICE TO FAYETTE FARMERS

The advantages of raising a few horses as a part of the general farm program listed by J. M. Vail, extension horse specialist, on his recent visit to the country in the interest of the Farm Bureau are:
1.—Furnishes dependable power at cost.
2.—Makes a good market for such unprofitable crops as oats.
3.—Retains much of the fertility value of the grain on the farm.
4.—Eliminates paying of freight on fuel used for farm power.
The general farmer, in Vail's opinion, can well consider raising his own horse stock. In so doing, he makes the best possible use of his own crop by not only producing his power at cost, but also by furnishing the fuel for that power at cost. Oats is ordinarily not profitable as a cash crop. By using the grain as fuel for power, the freight to market is saved and the return on freight on oil used in motor power machinery is eliminated. All the marketing costs and dealer's profits on both the grain and the oil are saved to the farmer who raises horses for his own farm power and maintains them on his home grown feeds.
Two of the vital items in the cost of producing crops have been labor and power. By judicious handling of the horse stock, Vail believes that the farmer can frequently have his farm power (and saved from the debt side of the ledger) over to the credit side.

COLLECTS FOREIGN DEBT

ELIOT WADSWORTH
Assistant Secretary of Treasury
Now that Great Britain and several of the smaller nations have begun to make regular payments on their debts to the United States as the result of negotiations inaugurated by President Harding, Assistant Secretary Wadsworth is one of the busiest federal officials. He confers with the representatives of the debtor nations as to the manner, amount and time of payments, and has complete charge of all foreign loan transactions.

National Park Visitors Rival Nature's Wonders

Following are some of the human oddities of the Yellowstone park as described by Henry Owen Franke in the Saturday Evening Post.
Women in high-heeled shoes, silk stockings and khaki breeches, hiking among the geysers and along the trails.
Men in low shoes, palm beach trousers, heavy sweaters and straw hats, doing the same thing.
Men, women and children crowding around the camp dining room half an hour before bedtime for fear they would not be the first served.
The talkative lady who was forever wanting to change her routing so she could be with new-found friends.
The man who ran to the cone of Old Faithful to see her spout and was treated to a nice hot shower.
The man who put their hands into the hot springs to see if the water was actually hot—and found out.
The lady who asked if the springs froze over in winter.
The roughneck who told her they did and that once a man broke through the ice and scalded his feet.
The schoolmarm with notebook and pensive look who will go home and write a description of the Grand canyon.
The man who put his collar into the Handkerchief pool and expected it to come out starched and ironed.
The man who exchanged desert with his neighbor at table, before the neighbor arrived, because of a slight difference in cross-sectional area in favor of the absent one.
The lady who got close enough to a bear to take a snapshot and then discovered that her camera needed reloading.
An obliging bear who sat upon a stump until the nerve-racking task was finished.
The poet who growled at the service at the camps, but would not change in the hotels.

Hard Work Done the Easy Way

American invention and enterprise have done much to take the hard toll and drudgery out of house work, as well as to provide many conveniences that add to the comfort and happiness of the home. Most of the hard tasks of housekeeping can be avoided or made far less arduous by modern appliances. To lighten the burden is to provide more opportunity for enjoying life.

Here are only a few of the items that are now almost indispensable in any home:

- Vacuum Sweepers
- Washing Machines—Electric or Water Power
- Electric Irons
- Gas Ranges
- Sewing Machines—with or without motor
- Refrigerators
- Electric Cookers
- Kitchen Cabinets
- Modern Stoves
- A host of kitchen and household utensils

Our stores can supply anything in the above lines. Ask one of our salesmen about them. The cost of this modern equipment, we believe, is less than you realize.

The Paramount

"DEFYING DESTINY" and "COLUMBUS" the latest and most authentic and dramatic story of America's discovery from "The Chronicles of America" a series of plays in which is seen the making of a great nation provide interesting entertainment today and tomorrow at the Paramount.

The actual human life contains the greatest of all drama and when that drama revolves around events of world significance, the peak of dramatic interest is achieved. The life and achievements of Christopher Columbus and the relation he bears to every American citizen adds to the entertainment value of "Columbus," directed by Edwin L. Hollywood with principal roles enacted by Fred Ellis, Dolores Costello, Robert Gallardi and others.

The story of "Defying Destiny" which is written by the greatly gifted Grace Henderson Michie at one time the highest paid scenario writer at the United States is like a rainbow delicately colorful, which touches the early reality at one end and curves into the horizon of romance at the other. Yet it is never fantastic or unnatural. The characters are genuine people and the adventures which befall them are such as might happen to any of us. The love theme which dominates the picture plot is charming at all times and unduly sentimental at no time. Monte Blue and Irene Rich have the leading roles and they are admirably supported by Tully Marshall, Jackie Bannister, Russell Simpson and other notable screen artists.

Friday and Saturday the first chapter of "The Way of a Path" serial presenting Alene Ray and Harold Miller in the leading roles, will be shown.

The Soisson

"THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME" the massive and much heralded film production of Victor Hugo's story masterpiece which opened on Monday at the Soisson Theatre for a four-day engagement, is an attracting record-breaking crowd at all performances. Never before, it is said, has there been offered a picture production representing so stupendous a cost—$1,000,000—never a film presentation so exact in its details as authentic in its conception as wonderful in the acting of its 75 principals, 200 sub-principals, and in the handling of the mob scenes in which more than 3,000 persons take part. Leon Chaney, admittedly the film at its interpreter of unusual character roles on either stage or screen, plays the deformed bell-ringer of Notre Dame with dramatic force. It is through the under-world king and lady Ruth Miller as "Esmeralda" and Carl Lumbly as "Quasimodo" who founded Universal City, out in Southern California it is said, has achieved something which has taken the utmost admiration. He has taken Hugo's rather lurid, melodramatic novel and after building a replica of Paris famous cathedral he has re-created Hugo's story in picture form. The result is a picture which is a triumph and a masterpiece. The spirit of the story is Quasimodo, the hunchback, an old mental creature, twisted in body and restricted in mind, who haunts the great church of Notre Dame. At the same time he is a man of a great heart and a great soul. He is a man of a great heart and a great soul. He is a man of a great heart and a great soul.

Friday and Saturday Dorothy Phillips and Kenneth Harlan in "The World's A Stage" will be shown.

The Orpheum

"HER REPUTATION"—With May Weaver supported by an all-star cast is the leading attraction today at the Orpheum.

To test the accuracy of newspaper news, a new newspaper plant where several existing sequences occur in the story, a committee of veteran newspapermen was appointed to act in advisory capacity during the filming of this special.

Her Reputation carries illustration of the tremendous power of the news press. So much has been made by newspaper editors of attempts to portray the atmosphere of the world in the "stage" and on the screen, the producer determined to show them that it really could be done.

Several shots in the script were changed upon advice of the advisory committee and every scene dealing with anything concerning the fourth estate was passed upon by them before it was filmed for the picture.

Her Reputation tells the story of a lovely little Southern beauty who falls in love with a young chap with whom she is introduced on a floating house top during a river flood and who afterwards learns that she has been the central figure of an ugly newspaper scandal while a prizefighter's mistress. In his father's newspaper, it is said, she has been told with a capital T that will touch every heart that hasn't forgotten how to love.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday "The Heritage of the Desert" a screen version of Zane Grey's popular novel will be shown.

WHY NOT SHARPEN YOUR APPETITE?

Don't starve yourself in the midst of plenty because of poor appetite, or because your food does you no good and makes you sick. "Dreco," natural plant and herb remedy, is what you need.

It is astounding how many overworked and weak stomachs, worn kidneys and exhausted livers result from present-day methods of living. Fatigue, because of nothing more than a habit and quite often a disreputable one at that.

No wonder so many people go through life miserable, complaining full of aches and pains, and nothing but skin and bones.

Doctors will tell you that 90% of all illness is traceable to the inability of vital organs to properly perform their function of eliminating poisons from the body and assimilating food of your system. You may be slowly poisoning and starving yourself to death.

Why not get at the real cause of your trouble? Take a good old-fashioned remedy and tonic like Dreco which is purely vegetable, contains no harmful drugs, mineral salts or which acts directly and gently on the stomach, bowels and liver, making you sick as drastic drugs do. It will eliminate body poisons, stimulate the vital organs to do their work properly and at the same time rest them and allow them to grow strong.

If you are thin and undernourished this is what you need more than anything in the world. Your appetite, healthy blood will take its place in your veins and you'll return to normal weight as thousands of other Dreco users have to their great delight and freedom from ill health.

Dreco is for sale at all druggists and is being specially introduced here by Connellsville Drug Co. also for sale by Hoffman's Drug Store in Scotland—Advertisement Interesting Discoveries Are Made Near Hawaii.

A report has just been made of the exploring expedition of the United States Navy mine sweeper Tanager in several cruises to the islands, reefs and shoals northwest of the Hawaiian group, included in the Bird reservation and extending to Wake Island, further west.

The expedition was undertaken last summer by the Navy department as a result of the Pacific scientific conference in Honolulu in 1920, and has been referred to as "the first exploring expedition under naval auspices since the Wilkes expedition of 1839-41." Speakers at the scientific conference accused the Washington authorities of neglect because of the lack of investigation for more than eighty years, and resolutions were passed calling for "the aid of government-owned ships for the prosecution of suitably planned expeditions."

Dr. H. E. Gregory, director of the Bishop museum and chairman of the conference, was interested with the work of securing a government ship for the expedition, and he finally aroused the interest of the Washington officials in the little-known islands forming a part of the Hawaiian group but extending in a chain far to the northwest of the main Hawaiian islands.

Exterminate Rabbits.

The mine sweeper Tanager, for some time attached to the Honolulu naval station, was assigned to the work, with Lieut. Commander S. W. King in general charge and heading the surveying parties, and Dr. Alexander Wetmore of the biological bureau of the Department of Agriculture of Washington in charge of the scientific features. The scientists carried out their work in the several fields of investigation in four monthly divisions.

The first cruise was to Laysan Island, Pearl and Hermes reef, Midway and Ocean Islands. The second included these islands and also took in French Frigate shoals. In the party was L. A. Thurston, the veteran editor of the Honolulu Advertiser, who had as one of his objects the increasing of his possible collection of shells, numbering more than 50,000, of both ocean and land varieties.

The third cruise embraced Necker Island and Nihoa or Bird Island, French Frigate shoals, and an attempt was made to land on Kauai. For the fourth cruise the scientists used the mine sweeper Whippoorwill, with an airplane and two destroyer escorts. They left Honolulu on July 7 and were joined later by the Tanager, which left Honolulu July 10 to close the expedition.

On Laysan Island the scientists found it necessary to exterminate herds of rabbits which had actually denuded the island of vegetation. They then planted various trees, shrubs, vines and grasses taken there for the purpose. They also had to kill off the rabbits at Pearl and Hermes reef. On this second cruise special study of marine zoology was made in the shoals and reefs.

Stone Idols Found on Is.

When the explorers visited Bird and Necker islands on the third cruise they found 15 species of birds and conducted their scientific investigations as extensively as they could in view of interference by the myriad feathered population and in spite of molestation by fish. They found evidence of human habitation at some remote period on both of these volcanic islets. They discovered stone idols, bowls and other implements on Necker, and there were also several stone terraces and platforms. Only four species of shrub vegetation were found. On a topmost peak of the island they picked up a few live land shells.

The zoologists in the various expeditions found an interesting study in Bird Island, the largest and most important of the northwestern chain. One side of the island rises perpendicularly 500 feet above the ocean. The explorers found many caves, one extending entirely through the island, immense flocks of birds encountered were different to those approached. The sea water abounded in sharks, turtles and game fish.

On the cruise to French Frigate shoals the scientists supplied a dozen small sand islets within the crescent-shaped reef and made a landing on a small pinnacle 120 feet high. They spent ten days on Johnston Island, a stretch of sand more than half a mile long, where they found fish and marine life abundant. They noted only three kinds of plants. The naval aviators, from an elevation of 8,000 feet, photographed two small islands and adjacent reefs.

The expedition to Wake Island, lying 1,000 miles west of Honolulu, spent the days there. It is made up of three low islets and a continuous reef, surrounding a broad lagoon and rising abruptly from the ocean. Wake Island, from the other islands in being thickly covered with plants, some of which were almost small trees. In addition to the usual Pacific sea birds, they found a wingless gull. Ruins of frame shacks once used by bird poachers were also found.

The cruise was shortened by the fact that there was no fresh water on Johnston or Wake Island. When the Tanager returned on August 15 the scientists had completed their survey of all the islands in the Bird reservation except Palmyra and Kingman's reef.

Nelson Girls Meet Best in U. S. Tonight in Warren Elks

Attraction Is Biggest Ever Staged in Connellsville; Team on Edge.

SPECIAL SEATS BUILT

Everything is ready for the big game tonight at the Armory between the Warren Elks Girls and the Nelson Girls. Additional seats have been constructed in anticipation of the largest crowd of the season, so that comfortable accommodations are guaranteed all who attend. The floor has been placed in the best possible condition and brand new baskets have been put up especially for this game.

The local girls held a long practice Monday evening, their last before the game, and it was by far the most satisfactory workout of the season. Every indication points to a close hard-fought struggle with the Nelsons playing their best game of the season. Owing to a misunderstanding, Miss Parker, star of the Youngstown Aces will not be able to play with Nelsons. The line-up that was started against Valley will open the game tonight. It will consist of Carolyn Tennant and Gertrude Guyan at forwards, Irene Michaels at center and Captain Edna McCormick and Alice Keener at the guards.

SCOTTDALE BASEBALL TEAM LACKS CATCHER AND MAN FOR SHORT

Special to The Courier: SCOTTDALE, April 2.—Following a meeting of the directors of the Scottsdale Baseball Association Monday evening announcement was made that all but a catcher and short-stop have been signed.

Along with the four-game series with the Homestead Grays is a three-game series with West Newton and a three-game series with Jeannette. Scottsdale will go to West Newton for the first game and the next week Jeannette will come here and play. Jeannette and West Newton have on a two-game series they will play off a "knock hole club" for boys and girls under 15 years old will be organized again this year and their season tickets will sell for one dollar. A new feature this year is half price to boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 18 years.

Ray Welsh Is Named Guard on All-Western Pennsylvania Quintet

Ray Welsh, captain of the 1924 basketball team of the Connellsville High School, was selected as a member of the All-Western Pennsylvania team, played by the High School Blue Sheet, the official organ of the W. P. I. A. League.

The team is composed of Campbell, forward; Homestead; Sticht, forward; Monessen; Pfaun, center; Allegheny; Pfeiffer, guard; Homestead; and Welsh, guard, Connellsville.

Speaking of the guard selections, the paper says: "In naming these men many stars are overlooked in the first call. In fact, any boy would have to be a pretty dependable guard to earn a position on a team which won a sectional championship. That is a fair way to look at it. The whole lot is a good one and Welsh and Pfeiffer just happened to be the best two."

The selections were made following the play-off for the W. P. I. A. title in two games of which the Cokers participated.

Of Interest to Fans. The Mount Pleasant High School basketball team has gone to Chicago. Not to play, however. The boys left yesterday but were not sure it wasn't an April Fool joke and they were on the train. They will witness the play in the national tournament. The team did not take its uniforms. During the past season the team made $1,800. Of this sum $1,000 was drawn from the bank and will be used to pay expenses of the outfit while in the Windy City.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Cupatan Glass baseball team will hold an important meeting in the office of the Illuminating Paving & Resurfacing Company. All members are asked to be present.

One member of the champion High School basketball team will not play with the Connellsville Schoolmates at South Connellsville tomorrow night. That is Donald LaRue. His father called at this office last night and stated that as the youth was going away to school next season he did not want his standing in amateur athletics hurt by participation in any game which might give room for such a question later. "My boy won't play Thursday night," he declared. Members of the team are considering their future season, and Bud O'Donnell, who will be next year's captain, is being looked to to protect his standing also.

Dallas has signed Bill Matlock, third baseman of the Southwestern university of Georgetown, Tex.

As a baseball training field Florida apparently does everything except guarantee permanent winners.

TWO WARREN STARS

Here are two of the luminaries of the Warren Elks' girls' basketball team, which meets the Nelson Girls at the Armory tonight in the feature game of the local season. They are Irene Michaels, a six foot guard who stars on the defense, and Marge Williams, the girl who has never been shut out in a game. Miss Williams has scored 225 points in 10 games and has a season average of 10 points per game.

High School Basketball Teams Guests at Annual Dinner; 16 to Graduate

The Connellsville High School basketball teams, boys and girls, were guests last evening at one of the finest banquets ever held in their town. It was dinner in the dining room of the First Presbyterian Church by the women of that church. Orange and black decorations predominated and the players were seated at a table arranged in the form of a "U" shape. The "king of birds" in a turkey gobble was the chief item on the menu and none of the trimmings was lacking.

Training rules were in the discard and the players were not slow to get back to "normal". There was little time lost in disposing of the sumptuous meal and then Edna H. Smith, superintendent of schools, and townmaster of the evening, opened the interesting after-dinner program. This includes talks from a number of the guests and the players themselves. The affair closed with the singing of the "Orange and the Black" by the school song. The dinner was free spirit, that predominated the basketball team all season, and carried it through to final success, was apparent last night and the dinner was voted the best and most informal of any ever held.

Couch Cuskey Settle (without his blue handkerchief) was the first person called upon and he discussed the relation of athletics to schools. He declared that in his opinion athletics did pay, and pay big, in numerous channels. He pointed out that it not only was a benefit to these participating but that such teams as High School has developed welded community spirit.

Closing the program Ray O'Donnell spoke a word of hope for the future and then said goodbye to those who were his teammates during the schedule just completed.

"I want to thank the fans for their support," he said, "and will try to have a good team on the floor next year. I want to say goodbye and good luck to Captain Ray Welsh, the 'tiger'; John George, 'cowboy'; the future Tom Mix; 'Six O'clock' Eddie Nihand, and Don LaRue, the 'shock'."

Miss Anna Mellon, coach of the girls' team, also spoke briefly. She had a word of congratulation for the boys who carried on so far in the past season.

W. L. Lewis represented the faculty of the High School, Edward Clarke, student manager, and Ray Welsh and Miss Margaret Buttermore, captains, also spoke. James M. Driscoll represented the alumni and the members of the two teams who graduated in June were called upon. They included Margaret Struble, Edward Nihand, John Wilhelm, Elizabeth Phelan, Jean Jordan, Donald LaRue, Carroll Fisher, Virginia Polta, Edna Brinkley, Betty DeLong, Karl Long, Marlin Forstner, and Ray (Bud) O'Donnell, who, although not yet elected, will step into the captaincy next season, was called upon and Miss Edna Smith, local captain of the girls' outfit, made a brief talk. Miss Katherine McKewin, secretary of the school board, and a sincere fan, made her maiden address before the athletes last evening and was greeted with a roar of applause.

Mark Purcell, manager of Hutchinson, has traded pitcher Bob Good to Beatrice of the Nebraska State League for Ben Wyrnin, a catcher and outfielder.

George Saker, manager of the St. Louis Americans, plans to return to the game this season in the capacity of manager, first baseman and pitcher.

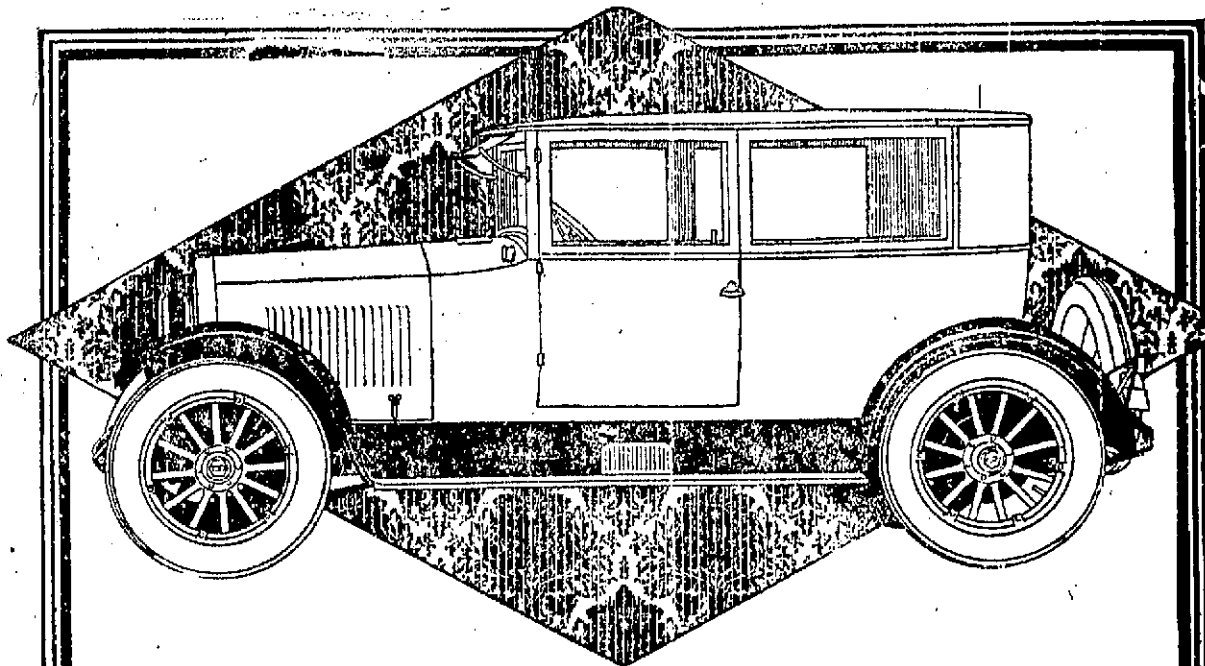

Kid Elberfeld of Little Rock and Johnny Dubois of Memphis are out with announcements that they will not don uniforms this year, but will stick to the bench. The idea is to give their teams an extra player.

Old-line politicians go on the theory that it is all right to cut second base if one is sure the umpire isn't looking.

St. Louis Browns have taken on for trial Milton Hyland, a New Britain (Conn.) semipro pitcher. Hyland is a left-hander.

Norman Williamson of Hampton, Va., senior and all-round athlete, has been elected captain of the Boston university baseball team.

Republican politicians are considering the nomination of Nap Lajole, former American League baseball star, for sheriff of Chicago county. Ott.

One Ride a Revelation!

It is largely the power and pep of the new Cleveland Six motor that influences so many persons to buy this new 5-passenger sedan.

The plain truth is that not one motorist out of ten knows the Cleveland Six is one of the finest performance cars being built.

Until they drive it, they do not dream that the Cleveland Six gives exactly the performance qualities that are the basis of owning high priced and heavy cars.

It takes hills with a smooth, masterful, irresistible rush—takes them faster and easier—and with an absence of effort that is a revelation.

It sweeps along at high speeds with Pullman car smoothness—without swaying, rocking, or weaving.

In traffic, it is nimble, alert, easy to handle, and impressively swift on pick-up.

Like all Cleveland Six closed cars, it has a Fisher body, notable for the fine coachwork, the spaciousness and comfort-giving qualities that Fisher craftsmanship creates.

Like all Cleveland Sixes, it comes with an established reputation for unflinching dependability.

At its present price, $1295, it stands out as a really remarkable value—unquestionably the soundest buy of the day for those who want the very maximum of closed car comfort at the very minimum expenditure.

It is impossible to prepare an advertisement that will reveal the decisive superiority of this new model as convincingly and completely as a demonstration. To arrange one implies no obligation. Please phone us.
